“The Making of the Longest Sushi Roll in Hong Kong”

More than 10 students from the Hotel, Service & Tourism Studies Discipline attended “The Making of the Longest Sushi Roll in Hong Kong” organized by the Hong Kong Food Council on 22 June 2011. The activity aimed to educate general public about food safety after the radiation leak in Japan and the relevant inspection procedures and requirements imposed by the government department on imported fresh foods and produces. With this event, the Council hoped to increase public confidence in imported foods and to encourage the public to continue patronize restaurants and eateries.
